It is probable that these fish will also be introduced into Gull Lake and Clarke's Lake in the Lacombe district, the Chain Lakes near Ponoka and in other lakes in the vicinity of Hardisty. Mr. Rodd reports that some 60,000,000 pickered have been hatched in the Lesser Slave Lake hatchery. Most of these will be placed in Lesser Slave Lake, but stocking will also be carried on in a number of other lakes in the province.

ST. JUDES CHURCH OF BLACKFALDS W.A.

The W.A. of St. Jude's Church, Blackfalds are holding a sale of plain and fancy work in Church Hall on June 1st at 2.30 p.m. Refreshments served and ice cream.

OLD AGE PENSIONS

During the first quarter of this year 10,688 old people have been receiving pensions under the Dominion old age pensions act. As yet, the scheme is in operation in only three of the provinces and in the Yukon territory. Neither of the two most populous provinces, Ontario and Quebec, is included; nor any of the maritime provinces, where a larger proportion of the residents are aged than in the case in western Canada. This is conclusive evidence that the scheme was not set up before there was need of it.

Bearing in mind the small amount of money which a pensioner may receive, the inference is that these pensioners would now be in want, or dependent upon charity, if pensions had not been made available to them. In the remaining provinces, including Alberta, there are probably twice as many more who would be eligible for pensions—that is who need pensions, but cannot as yet get them. The governments of these provinces are carrying a heavy responsibility for keeping that number of their residents in an unfair and humiliating position.

BOYS' AND GIRLS' CAMP

The Boys' and Girls' Camp at Meridian Beach is meeting with wide approval, and funds are coming in very satisfactorily. It is suggested that the wants of all contributors be put in the corner store. The work on the building will begin next week. The half holiday on Wednesday permits many to assist on the building, and already several from Lacombe and Bentley have promised to come. Any others who wish to help are asked to notify Mr. Layton, so that transportation can be arranged. It will be an occasion for a picnic. On Thursday a contingent from Ponoka will be there. It has been decided to hold the Boys' Camp from July 2nd to the 9th and the Girls' from July 9th to 16th. Cost for each camper will be $5.50. Boys and girls of good character, of any denomination, from any place in the District may attend.

Canada's Future Fruit Champion

Believed to be the tallest man in Scotland, Andrew Kellaghan, of Lesmahagow, height 6 feet 10 1/2 inches, decided he'd become a champion fruit picker, and that Canada was the place for his triumph. Accordingly he joined the first party to train in farming at Carstairs, Scotland, under the Scottish Ministry of Labor's scheme to equip future Canadians. He arrived this summer along with hundreds of other Scottish immigrants who crossed aboard the big Scottish ocean liner Letitia, from Glasgow. His pal is a midget by comparison.

On Friday evening last, Corp. Collett was surprised when requested to call and meet some friends in the parlour of the Adelphi. Some twenty citizens of Lacombe and district were there to meet him, the occasion being a little farewell presentation from his many friends. In a few well chosen words W. F. Puffer, on behalf of our citizens, handed Corp. Collett a purse of gold, as a slight token of esteem. Corp. Collett feelingly replied, expressing his sorrow on leaving Lacombe after his long residence, and assured all that their kindness to him and his family would always be remembered. Corp. Collett and family left on Saturday for Wetaskiwin, where they will remain for the future.

 Val Radig brought in a hen's egg to this office on Saturday that should be a record breaker. The egg weighed three and a quarter oz.; it measured 11 inches one way and six and a third inches the other. Val thinks he has the record of the district, but will be glad if anyone can equal it.

DECISION RESERVED
 In the District Court, held here on Friday, Judge Lees presiding, judgment in the suit Red Deer Hospital v. Last West M.D., was reserved. The suit arose from the refusal of the municipality to pay for the treatment of alleged indigent patients.

THE HIGH SCHOOL CURRICULUM

The Minister of Education for Alberta (Mr. Baker) has lost no time in making good his promise, delivered at last session of the Legislature, to have the curricula of provincial high schools carefully studied with a view to their possible lightening. In fulfillment of his undertaking a committee has now been appointed, of which Mr. G. F. McNally, superintendent of schools, is the chairman, and this committee will meet during the week commencing June 17.

Three phases of the question are to be particularly investigated: 1. Whether high school curricula can be reduced. 2. If so, how? 3. Whether the number of subjects will have to be reduced or whether individual items of curricula will have to be made lighter.

In connection with these matters and others relative to the general question, the high school teachers of Alberta have been consulted, and their opinions will no doubt be useful to the committee. Without prejudging the question, the public of Alberta would like to think that something could be devised which would lighten the burden of their older children and leave more time for recreation and for cultural development.

Why go to Peru?

When crude oil is so plentifully available here in North America, why does Imperial Oil Limited go 4000 miles to Peru for the crude from which Marvelube is made?

It is because Peruvian crude has lubrication properties which make it particularly desirable as a base for a superior motor oil.

That is why Marvelube is giving aircraft operators longer periods between engine overhauls and a greater margin of safety.

Marvelube meets the needs of the modern high-speed motor, in the air or on the road, because its carbon-free and heat-resisting superlubricants are created by Nature herself.

Let Marvelube give you the benefits of better lubrication. There is a grade of Marvelube refined to meet exactly the specifications of your car, truck or tractor. See the Marvelube Chart at Imperial Oil dealers and service stations.

Wants Help to Enforce Their Liquor Law

The statement of the assistant secretary of the treasurer at Washington to the Canadian Press that most of the liquor smuggled into the United States comes from across the border or from the French possession of St. Pierre is significant. It may be suggested it was issued with a view to influencing public opinion in Canada in favor of imposing a ban on liquor shipments to the States.

The American officials are carrying on a campaign with this object in mind. They are laying special emphasis on the claim that Canada's refusal to grant clearance to liquor vessels is the best means of enforcing the drylaw. It may be open to doubt whether if not a single drop of liquor crossed the international border the republic would be any drier than it is now. Other avenues and means would be devised to bring in supplies, in fact they are already in existence, and in any case it is estimated on good authority that at least 90 p.c. of the hard liquor consumed in the States is of domestic origin.

In addition as pointed out by the Canadian Government, the rum running between the two countries is being done chiefly by small American boats subject to scandalously lax control in their own country as compared with that applied to similar craft in Canada. The Canadian law requires all vessels to report, both when leaving for and returning from a foreign destination. The United States law exempts vessels of less than five tons from the regulation, and most of the rum runners are in the exempted class.

It was also pointed out by Ottawa that Canada's refusal to grant legal clearance to rum runners would simply be to make a smugglers' rendezvous of every creek and cove in Canadian waters.

U.S. dry officials expose themselves to a charge of insincerity in placing the whole blame for non-enforcement of a non-enforceable law on Canada's shoulders. If they displayed a keen interest in uncovering illicit sources of supply at home and as zealous a disposition to punish the wrongdoers as they evidence in their activities in coast waters satisfactory results would be accomplished.

Canada has gone a considerable way in assisting the United States to enforce an unpopular domestic law. This country is being asked to go further. The request is based on the score of neighborliness. There have been occasions in tariff and other matters when this country has seen something to be desired along that line from Uncle Sam. That, however, is beside the case at present. There is a moral issue involved. Can the Dominion afford on the ground of its own self-respect to rest under the implied responsibility of defeating the enforcement of Volstead law? It is a reproach lacking justification, but it is being made in fairly explicit language by official United States.

RECIPE OF MISS PHYLIS HENN

The Musical Tunes of the Year

Tomorrow Evening

There are a number of Lacombe music lovers who have had the pleasure of hearing Miss Henn sing or play. To these people this talented young lady from Oliver will send no introduction. But there are many more who have not listened to her, and we are sincere in urging them to take tomorrow evening off and attend her recital.

Miss Phyllis Henn, is an old timer in Oliver, and has been playing at concerts and in the United Church there for some years, starting on the piano when but a wee tot. She is to-day one of the best liked players in the district. She has been a pupil of Mrs. E. R. Harrison, L. R. A. M., Lacombe, for about six years, and appears here under her management. Besides taking lessons from the above well known pianoforte instructor she spent some time under the direction of Vernon Barford of Edmonton, and sang in the choir of Christ Church at that point. While in California last year she studied under Prof. C. E. Books, one of the best known vocal teachers in Los Angeles.

She is today one of those players who make a ready appeal to all listeners, whether playing a piece by one of the "Old Masters" or one of the more modern classics. She plays from the heart, and leaves her listeners at the finish of the piece with that feeling, that only a true artist can impart, of having listened to something worth while. In her singing, too, we feel that Miss Henn will reach the heart strings of her listeners. Her voice of great power and rare sweetness will, we know, captivate her audience and will be a revelation to all music lovers of Lacombe, who have not hitherto listened to her sing. And while most musicians in recital play the classics, Miss Henn will follow suit, but will, we are assured play some of the better popular music, of which she is as great an artist as on the works of the "Old Masters."

Seats are on sale at Sweet's Pharmacy, or may be obtained from this office, or at the United Church on the evening of the Recital. We would advise you to get your tickets early, as there is a great demand for them.

Satisfactory Sale of Bulls

Although the listings this year were less than in previous years, the 20th Annual Bull Sale, held under the auspices of the Central Alberta Cattle Breeders Association was as good as any held so far. Bidding was brisk and the entire lot sold for fairly good prices.

The top price went to Paul Broderick of Leduc, his animal "Leedale Prince", a Hereford was sold to P. Burns Ranch, Calgary for $300.00.

In the Shorthorn class, Fred Christie of Blackfalds, got the top price, his animal, "Red Iron" sold to E. W. Wright, Wetaskiwin for $300.00. Another in the $300.00 class was C. W. Duckett, of Lacombe, a Hereford owned by him sold to C. Pearson, of Paritosh for an even $300.00.

Several bulls brought over $200.00 as follows: A Shorthorn owned by A. W. Latimer, of Bowden, sold to R. W. Jenkins, Blackfalds, for $200.00; M. A. Pope, of Hanna, bought an Aberdeen Angus bull from E. Gillespie of Okanese for $200.00, and Nils Olsen, of Okla, paid Alex Hall, of Lacombe the same amount for a Shorthorn.

Fred Christie, of Blackfalds, sold a Shorthorn to J. B. Howell, of Ponoka for $210.00 and D. McCormick, of Castor, paid $205.00 to John Pearson, of Dayland for another Shorthorn. $200.00 was paid for Greenbrae Comet, a Shorthorn, owned by W. Howarth, Red Deer, sold to Ray O'Keefe, Halkirk.

The entire list of animals offered, were sold and brought an average price of $170.00 for the forty-one animals sold. As one well known cattleman said, "This sale today was wonderful, considering the time of year, and the small number of animals listed."

Empire Shopping Should Begin in Home Town

In spite of all that has been said and written on the subject of trading within the Empire, it seems unnecessary to apologize for mentioning it again. For this week has been specially designated to the cause. Weeks thus set apart often seem to give rise to the impression that the virtue which they are meant to teach is to be practiced that week and then allowed to lapse for another year—just as if religion were something to be practiced on Sundays only. On the contrary, trading within the Empire is something which the people of the British Commonwealth are practicing more and more year by year. This week is not only a reminder that this field is almost unlimited, and that though the Empire may be spread over the whole habitable globe, clothing and in other ways sustaining the life of all its people from within its own boundaries.

All reflection on this subject must, however, be based on this fundamental truth; that for Canadians the Empire begins in Canada. Indeed, it may be said that the Empire begins in the home town, which deserves to be the heart of all operations having the development of Imperial commerce as their objective. It is the home town, however small, however remote, upon which the province, the Dominion and the Empire are built, so that every movement of this kind will defeat its own purpose unless it begins somewhere near home.

Empire shopping week is no mere trade boosting scheme. Undoubtedly the lesson to be taught is the support of the Empire's merchants, but that is a mere incident. Anything that helps Canada, whether in social, cultural or business matters, helps also to make Canada a stronger link in the Empire. In strengthening our own link, we are contributing to the strengthening of the whole of the chain. That is one of the principal ideas behind trading within the Empire to which we are asked to give some special thought this week.

The Prince of Wales has again extended his patronage to the Banff Highland Gathering and Scottish Music Festival to be held this summer at the Banff Springs Hotel in the Rockies. Pipea, dancers, and athletes from all parts of the country compete in these popular games.

Two baby black bears were great attractions recently at the Detroit Sportsman's Show. They were from Phil Landwehr at Mattawa, Ontario, and were escorted to their destination by a member of the C. P. R. general tourist department, who had sundry scars to show in proof of the existence of the babies' first teeth.

Enough flowers are planted by the Canadian Pacific Railway each year to beautify a couple of cities. The floral branch each year sends out to station agents and employees along its line plants, bulbs, shrubs, seedlings, and seeds by the tens of thousands to decorate the company's right-of-way.

Five railway cars were required to move the equipment of the mammoth Casavanti Organ recently installed in the new Royal York Hotel in Toronto. The hotel is the tallest building in the British Empire.

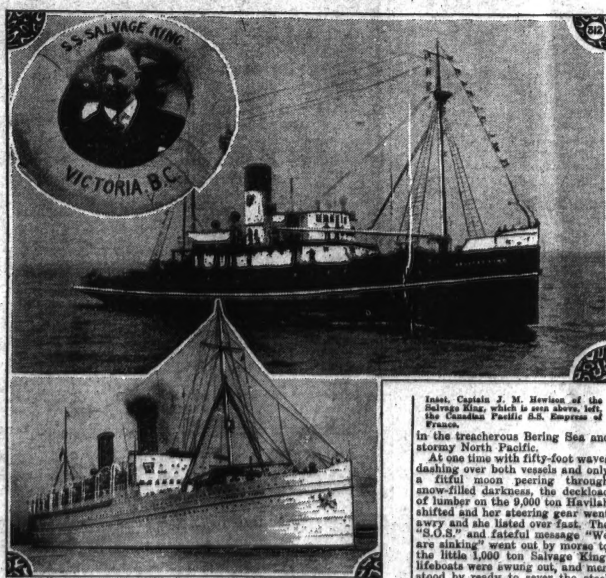

Tyndall stone, which shows such great effect in the famous Banff Springs Hotel in the Rockies, is to be used in the construction of the new building for the T. Eaton Company in Toronto, the first unit of which is now being built.

The year's champion cattle raiser in British Columbia is Annie Turner, twelve-year-old daughter of James Turner, Cadboro Bay stock breeder. Her 14-month-old short-horn steer, sired by British Bull Marquis and weighing around 1,100 lbs., won the grand championship of all breeds at the Kamloops bull sale and fat stock show.

Each set of equipment of the Trans-Canada Limited and Mountaineer, and there are eighteen of them, is worth upwards of a million dollars. This year, the new rolling stock having added considerably to the value as well as to the speed of the service. The C. P. R. Angus Shops at Montreal were busy all winter building special sleeping, dining, and Pullman lounge cars for this special de luxe service between Montreal and Vancouver and Chicago and Vancouver.

The Indian of old could yield a wicked tomahawk, but to-day he can handle a mean brassie. The pale-face is threatened on the golf links by Indian golfers, and it is likely that at Banff, Alberta, the redskins will develop even greater prowess. Indian caddies, it has been decreed, are to be used on the eighteen hole golf course at this famous mountain resort, and the rising generation of native Indian golfers is likely to become ardent golf fans.

DRAMA OF SEA SALVAGE

WHEN the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of France and the Pacific Salvage Company's big steam tug Salvage King rubbed sides near the entrance to Victoria Harbour recently greetings were exchanged between two principal actors in an outstanding drama of Canadian seamanship. They were Captain Bunker, former master of the freighter Havilah, and Captain

J. M. Hewison, master of the Salvage King, the former being a passenger on the giant passenger liner. The tug after sixty days out of her own port was returning after performing the heroic feat of towing the disabled freighter Havilah from Dutch Harbour, Alaska, to Okeas, Japan, through days of constant gales, terrible seas and under almost every kind of marine handicap, a distance of 5,100 miles.

Inset: Captain J. M. Hewison of the Salvage King, which is seen above, left the Canadian Pacific S.S. Empress of France in the treacherous Bering Sea and stormy North Pacific. At one time with fifty-foot waves dashing over both vessels and only a faint moon peering through snow-filled darkness, the decked-out lumber on the 9,000 ton Havilah shifted and her steering gear went awry and she listed over fast. The "S.S.B." and faithful message "We are sinking" went out by morse to the little 1,000 ton Salvage King, lifeboats were swung out, and men stood by ready to sever the steel tow line with saw acetylene torch. The freighter survived the storm, however, and was towed through gales and mountainous seas for nine more days to Okeas, Japan, covering 5,100 miles in 28 days. When she met the Empress of France, on which the captain and crew of the freighter were passengers, she was completing a voyage of 10,000 miles after having performed a task that no other salvage vessel on the Pacific had been able to undertake.

Most Just Decision

FOR BETTER OR WORSE IS LAW UPHOLD

In a written decision handed down in Calgary on Monday in the action for divorce Chertkow vs. Chertkow, Chief Justice Harvey of the appellate division of the supreme court of Alberta, it is found that a marriage cannot be declared null and void under existing Canadian law on the ground of insanity after it has been entered into when both parties to the marriage contract were cognizant of the responsibility vested in them by the ceremony.

The decision followed a four day hearing, at the end of which judgment was reserved and then followed shortly after by his lordship's decision. The proceedings were instituted by Trudholme Dickson, official states guardian, on behalf of Sadie Chertkow. It was sought to quash the ruling of Mr. Justice Ives of the trial division, who decided that the marriage of Tony and Sadie Chertkow was null and void on account of the insanity of the latter.

In declaring the marriage still legal, Chief Justice Harvey stated: "It is no doubt a hardship that the plaintiff, Tony Chertkow, a comparatively young man, should be doomed to live without a mate while the defendant lives, but that is a matter for the consideration of parliament, not the courts, and it may be said that is the second part of the 'for better or for worse' which he took her for life."

His Lordship pointed out that there was no evidence to prove that defendant was insane at the time of the marriage, and therefore the ceremony could not be declared null and void. It was the first case of its kind to be tried in Alberta courts and the third in the history of British legal jurisprudence.

The judgment continues: "It is apparent that there are no precedents for the present case which at least in these circumstances furnish anything like a parallel to it, and it must seem to the layman, at least, almost incredible that a man should woo a woman, marry her, live with her for more than five years, during which time she assisted him in the conduct of his business, have children by her, and not until after that find that she was actually insane when he married her."

what would have been the result? The Canadian Farmer would have been hindered in his operations; and the country would have been threatened with over-production and unemployment. Yet, not only has he not succumbed to the temptation to bring in more and ever more settlers, which it might have been supposed, was his duty as Minister of Immigration, but he has further informed his critics that he foresees the possibility of still more necessity for restriction within a few years.

Forke). To what purpose is this effort? Mr. Forke's defence of the administration of his department has been masterly and clear, in every way more words than Mr. Veniot, of all the indictments brought against him. The Minister has been accused of sending settlers into remote parts of the Dominion, far removed from the railways, medical help and all the facilities to which civilization is accustomed. He very aptly replies in effect that he has no control over the voluntary movements of settlers. To which it might be added that if settlers are sufficiently adventurous to leave new trails it is the thanks of the country which is due them—not blame for the government. It appears that the Minister of Immigration's chief fault, or his chief virtue, according to one's point of view, has been caution. By overlooking Canada with immigrants he could, no doubt, have been able to produce an imposing array of statistics which might have impressed the elector. But
